

You might be a show jumper if...

Holly Grayton with the help of many friends

Back to Articles...

You might be a show jumper if:

You might be a show jumper if...You cluck at people to get them to move out of your way or when you are in traffic

You might be a show jumper if... A (horse) fart in your face is a completely normal and sometimes daily occurrence that doesn't faze you

You might be a show jumper if...You drive past golf courses or open fields and think, "that'd make an awesome derby field to gallop in!!"

You might be a show jumper if...You hate waking up early on the week days but have no problem waking up at 5am on the weekend to be on your horse at 7am

You might be a show jumper if...Your horse has more expensive shoes and clothes than you do

You might be a show jumper if...you spend more on massages/Chiropractors for your horse and than you do on yourself

You might be a show jumper if...if you try to find a distance to cracks in the sidewalk.

You might be a show jumper if...If you give your jacket a quick sniff-test for barn smells before leaving the house to a civilian activity.